Helping your child to learn, understand and do...

Ask them what they learnt today and how they know they learnt it.

Professional Learning for teachers at Bothwell this year has focussed very clearly on the concept of Visible Learning. That is teachers clearly articulating Learning Intentions, or more exactly what students are going to learn and success criteria, what students will be able to do when they have learnt something. The theory behind the use of learning intentions is very strong and clear. When students know and understand what it is they are learning and what it looks like when they have learnt it they are better able to understand, discuss and improve upon their learning.

If we reflect on the education we received, I think most of us will remember 'doing stuff,' then taking the work to a teacher to be told it wasn't right or it wasn't understood properly. When students understand what the focus of their learning is and what they must be able to do to show they understand, confusion and wasted time as described above is a lot less likely.

As I move around the school it is good to see learning intentions and success criteria identified. I regularly ask students what it is they are learning and how they feel they are going with it. Recently some student learning has been about writing procedural texts and as one student said, 'that's recipes and instructions, stuff like that.' When I asked how they will know they've learnt it the answer was "well if I write some instructions in a recipe and you do what I say, the cooking should come out right. If it doesn't then it means my instructions are wrong."

A recent conversation with a secondary student had one young man say, "Miss I can do algebra now cause I know it's about swapping letters for numbers." While a much smaller person shared "I'm practising my fine motor skills" and was able to explain exactly what fine motor skills are.

I encourage all of our parents to ask their children, what it is they learnt today and how do they know they've learnt it. They may even be able to articulate exactly what the learning intentions for the day were.

YOUNG ARCHIES EXHIBITION

We have recently entered student work in the Young Archie's Portrait competition. Students across Grades 1-7 completed portraits in class and four entrants were selected per category. From Grade 1-2: Monique Watkins, Ben Branch, Grace Gleeson, Taylor Porter. From Grade 3-4: Eliza Emerson, Annie Webb, Robert Porter, Mia Pearce. From Grade 5-6: Danielle Bradburn, Hannah Webb, Michael Pearce, Katelyn Nichols. From Grade 7: Tara Pearce and Renee Honner.

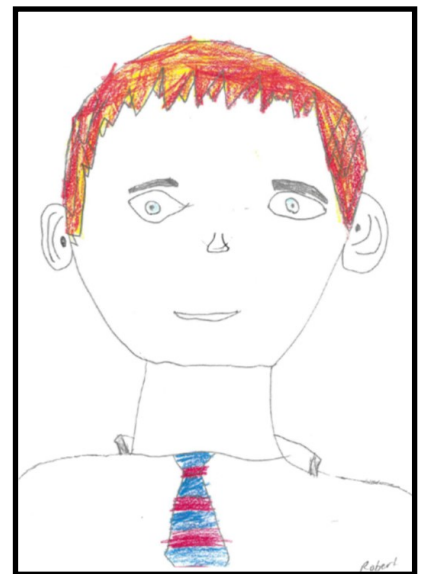

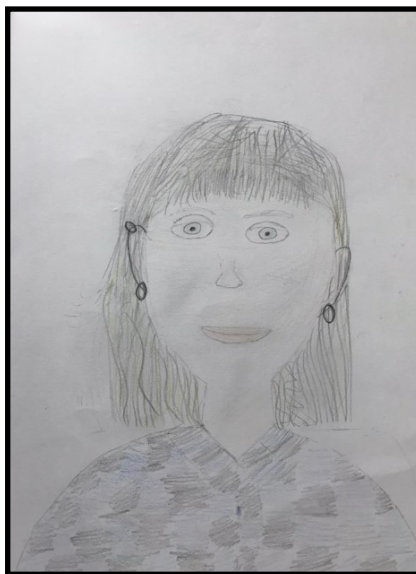

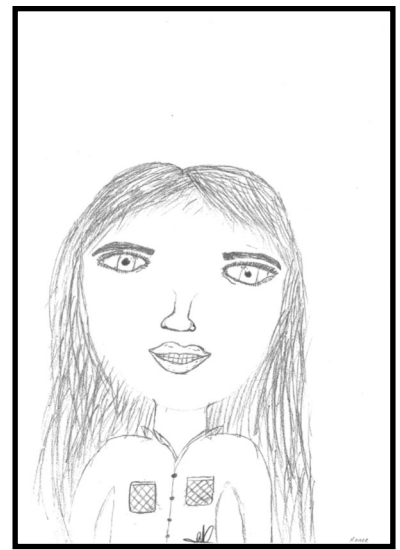

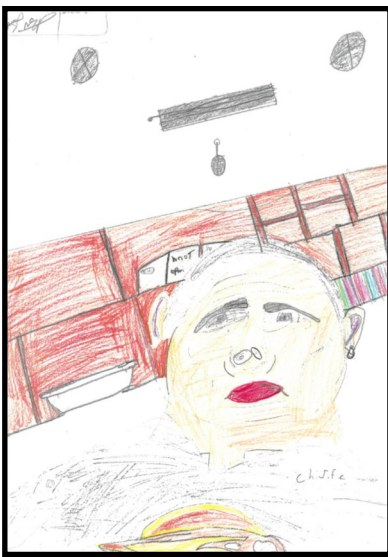

Students and their families are welcome to attend the awards presentation on Sunday 8 September, 2019 at 11.00 a.m. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of each category. Category winners will be notified by 4th September, 2019.

Portraits will be exhibited at the School of Creative Arts UTAS, Hunter Street, Hobart: Thursday 5 to Sunday 15 September, 2019.

EXHIBITION OPENING HOURS:

Monday—Friday: 9.00 am—5.45 pm. Saturday: 10.00 am—4.45 pm. Sunday: 10.00 am—3.45 pm.

Congratulations to Bailey, Brock and Brodie, who have been selected to participate in the SPSSA Winter Carnival for AFL next Tuesday.

We wish them luck.

Government House Visit

It was an amazing opportunity on Wednesday night to meet the Governor Kate Warner and her husband Richard, including many other people that were at Government House as a part of National Science Week.

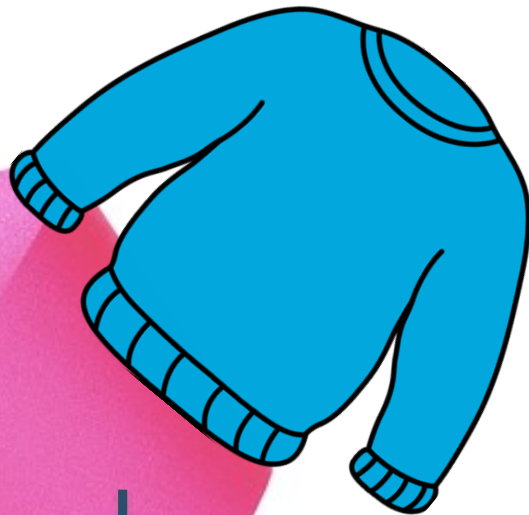

There was a chance to talk to other schools about their understanding of Science. It was an absolute honour to be a part of the Science Week Celebration and listen to the Governor speak on her experiences with the Science Industry.

We were extremely lucky to have got the chance to explore Government House and its fascinating constructions. The amount of money and detail that went in to designing and decorating Government House is incredible. It was definitely a special experience for us. There were many photos taken including with some of the amazing guards, the Governor herself, and Michael Ferguson.

There was also an opportunity to talk to some pretty well-known Scientists about our future and what we plan to do with our lives. A massive thank you goes to our teacher Mrs Wise for taking us to Government House. It was definitely a night to remember.

Reclink Football

Jordan did an awesome job tapping the ball out of the centre on all occasions and had many successful kicks and marks.

Connor kicked a brilliant goal during the first quarter. He went on to kick several more over the course of the game.

Adam took a ripper of a mark during the second quarter. He was always seen chasing the ball.

Caleb took an excellent mark to save a goal during the third quarter. He continued in this fashion to save quite a number of goals.

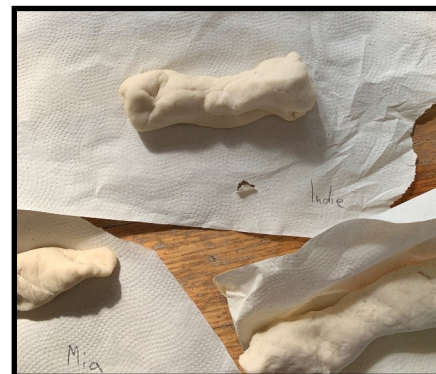

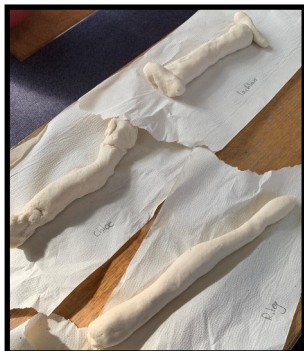

Byron took a great mark from Beau and successfully kicked it to Jorden during the third quarter. He kept running after and trying to get the ball as often as he could.

Beau ran around the ground to gain many possessions to kick the ball successfully to others. He didn't seem to run out of energy.

They all played very well and worked great as a team giving it all their best. Well done boys!!

After reading Hairy Maclary, we made some salt dough and moulded dog bones for Hairy Maclary and his friends.

This week the preps were challenged to find out which 3D shapes stacked and which did not. We made tall towers using 3D shapes that do stack. Both Kinders and Preps are continuing our investigation into shape, with lots of hands on activities.

In Launching into Learning last week we read “We’re Going on a Bear Hunt.” We sung the story using our small world that used, water, sticks, grass and mud. We made chocolate bears in cars.

Cooking Class on Thursdays.
Dessert looks very nice,
chocolate self saucing pudding.

Breakfast Program.

Monday and Thursday will be as normal

The students can continue to enjoy having some toast and a nice warm Milo at the start of the day on Mondays and Thursdays.

Please feel free to donate any Bread, Milo, Margarine or Jams and Vegemite to the program, this benefits all the students.

For a while now, students at Bothwell have been able to put their soft plastic waste in separate bins ready for recycling. From the beginning of this year however, China has stopped taking Australia's recyclable plastics. Now there is far too much plastic for Australia to deal with. Students at Bothwell are asked to help and reduce the amount of plastic waste/ We create by 1% by the end of the year. Here is how it works, Over a week Primary Classes have sorted plastic waste from their lunch boxes into categories and created a tally sheet. Now the challenge is to replace 1 item of packaged food with something not packaged.

They will be asked to try this every 2 weeks. An example might be to take out a bag of tiny teddies and replace it with an unwrapped biscuit, or a muffin. Towards the end of the school year, students will sort out plastic waste from their lunchboxes again and see whether their tally has been reduced by 1%.

I am asking for your support with this by helping our students taking up the swap suggestion every two weeks, starting this fortnight.
